

ANNUAL REPORT

Glen Helen

The Raptor Center

- We never turn a raptor away! This year, we took in 219 injured, orphaned, or starving birds of prey, that received specialized medical care with the goal of returning healthy birds to the wild.
- We had a busy year for Raptor Center educational programs, reaching 6,724 participants through 154 programs.
- As part of our efforts to make the Glen more visit-able for those with limited mobility, we installed a new, ADA compliant path around the enclosures for our educational ambassador birds.
- Providing training for the next generation of wildlife educators and rehabilitators is a core component of our work. Each year, we take on several interns, who while learning the operations of the Raptor Center, help make our work possible. This year's interns included Caroline Cohen, Eva Hill, and Sydnie Matda.
- We were a regular feature on the Fox 45 Morning Show, and shared information and stories about our raptor education programs and rehabilitation efforts.
- Thanks to an ongoing partnership with the Yellow Springs Community Foundation, we hosted two students who served as Miller Fellows: Leon Morris and Everest Wass.

- We offered our signature event, Whoa Cooks for You, under a big tent in the Glen. The event made $100,149 gross, in support of the work of the Raptor Center. We are grateful to everyone who made it a success.

The Outdoor Education Center

- To reach new audiences, and better meet community needs, we rolled out several new programs, including Tulip Treez—skill-based programs designed for homeschooled children; Winter Break Camp—for an environmental education experience between Christmas and New Year's Day; and CSU Weekend—a college readiness camp, in partnership with nearby HBCU Central State University.
- Our naturalist internship trains passionate people to become gifted environmental educators during their time in the Glen. We hosted a five-person cohort in fall 2023, and an eight-person cohort in spring 2024. (Fall: Larkyn Alley, Mallory Campbell, Eileen Haney, Emily Imhoff, Sadie Kuchel; Spring: Eliza Browning, Alivia Fergus, Jan Hach, Maddie Innocenti, Zach Johnson, Samuel Kerr, Dana Raber, Sydney Shaw)
- We welcomed more kids than ever for an amazing week of summer Ecocamps, hosting 421 campers in 2023 and 493 in 2024.

- 2,602 schoolchildren, from 28 schools, had a life-shaping visit to the Outdoor Education Center and Glen Helen. This marked the first year we were able to host school groups in the fall semester since before the pandemic.

Around the Glen

- Trailside Museum is now reopened to the public, after a flurry of renovations made possible by major support from Center-Point Energy and the Yellow Springs Community Foundation. In addition to multiple building repairs, we installed new exhibits, including tanks with a variety of native Ohio fish and reptiles, a sound system to capture nearby bird calls, and a custom floor mural from artist Pierre Nagley.
- We celebrated the successful completion of the Campaign to Secure the Future of Glen Helen. Remarkably, 828 individuals, couples, families, businesses, agencies, and organizations came forward to support the campaign, allowing us to meet our goal of raising $4,250,000 to finance the purchase of the preserve, restart programs shuttered by the COVID pandemic, reopen the preserve to the public, and attend to urgent code, safety, and accessibility issues.

- We could not do the work that we do, without the significant and tireless contributions of volunteers, in every area of the organization. Over 60 dedicated volunteers worked in land management, programs, the raptor center, the nature shop, special events, education and administrative projects. There were 3,135 volunteer hours given to the Glen, valued at $99,690.

- The Vernet Ecological Center, Camp Greene, and Birch Manor were popular destinations for weddings, celebrations of life, meetings and retreats, and functions. We hosted 39 such events over the year.

- Social media: By the end of the year, we had 27,289 followers on facebook.com/glenhelen, and 1,490 followers on instagram.com/glenhelennature. Our most seen post, from November 2023, shared an image of the Inman Trail boardwalk at the beaver pond, and had a reach of 281,046 Facebook users.

- The Vernet Ecological Center is now home to an original fiber art work by Beth Holyoke and Kathi Seidel, entitled “Fungi Fantasy-Looking,” a creative installation exploring the varied and fascinating world of living fungi.
- Through a partnership with Canopy Strategic Partners, we learned that 40% of our visitors come from a half-hour away or less, and that 36% of our visitors travel over an hour to get to the Glen.

On the Land

We have been busy attending to the ecological health of the preserve, public safety, and accessibility. Over the year, our work included:

- Processed over 48 acres of woody invasives including bush honeysuckle, common privet, multiflora rose, autumn olive, and Asian bittersweet.
- Managed non-woody herbaceous invasives including lesser celandine (190 acres!), garlic mustard, dame’s rocket, and stiltgrass (30 acres) and cleared 118 trail obstructions
- We made improvements to the stone steps descending from Trailside Museum, and constructed new bridges on the Lower Birch Creek and Fire Road Trails. Work began on a series of bridges and boardwalks on the rugged Talus Trail, with plans to see this trail reopened by 2025.
- Removed 25 hazard trees, also a great white oak which was leaning toward the Vernet Ecological Center. We calculated its age at 250 years old!
- Thanks to a generous donation, we are now the proud owners of a new Utility Terrain Vehicle. Our land management team will be able to use this to better haul material around the Glen for our trail and habitat stewardship work.
- We’re studying the feeding habits of the beavers, through a partnership with researchers at the University of Dayton. In an ongoing commitment to work around the beavers, rather than require them to work around us, we raised the boardwalks in the location of their pond.

- Interacted with visitors regarding rules on 407 instances.
- Thanks to an ongoing partnership with the Yellow Springs Community Foundation, we hosted Emily Fried who served as a Miller Fellow.
- We began work on a multi-year project to make it easier for people with limited mobility to access Glen Helen trails, starting construction on a new parking area.

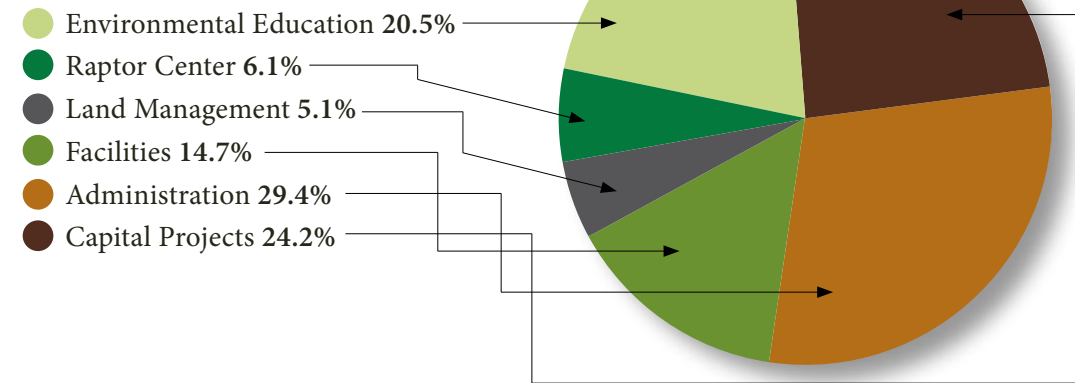

Programs and Events

Throughout the year, we offered a wide range of education programs for all ages and physical abilities. These included:

- We hosted 51 public programs, attracting 1,219 participants. These included favorites like our monthly full moon hike, bird walks, wild-flower walks, plus new events.
- We offered a monthly bird walk, coordinated the Greene County region’s participation in the Christmas Bird Count, and held Make it Count for the Birds, an annual fundraiser. This year, we found 98 species, and raised over $14,000 for our land stewardship work.
- Glen Helen became a training site for the Ohio Certified Volunteer Naturalist program. 16 people participated in our inaugural training over the course. Each new naturalist commits to at least 40 hours of service.
- Our Golden Walkers Club now gathers weekly. This partnership with the Yellow Springs Senior Center.
- In partnership with Central State University Extension, we hosted two mushroom cultivation work shops, taking home a log inoculated with edible fungi.

The Financials

Expenditures - $2,533,160

Sources of Funds - $2,564,831

In Recognition

Long term financial planning is key to maintaining Glen Helen into perpetuity. Through the Glen Helen Legacy Society, we recognize individuals who provide a planned gift to Glen Helen. Glen Helen itself is the legacy of Hugh Taylor Birch, who cared so deeply for this wooded glen that he sought to preserve it forever as a memorial to his daughter Helen. Members of the Legacy Society share this passion for ensuring a vibrant future for Glen Helen. Through their planned gifts, the members of the Glen Helen Legacy Society ensure the preservation of our unique, beautiful, and diverse Glen, and secure the chance for future generations to also gain life-shaping experiences through their immersion in the preserve and its programs.

Stories of Stewardship

The Glen Helen Legacy Society

Bob Baldwin, Jr.

Born in 1933, Bob was a fixture in Yellow Springs, and a longtime Glen Helen supporter. A lifelong Yellow Springs resident, Bob graduated from Bryan High School in 1951. He then joined the US Navy, serving as a supply officer before attending Antioch College, graduating in 1957.

Baldwin Pond, near the northern edge of Glen Helen, was actually named for Bob's father. When Bob Sr. passed away, Bob Jr. donated funds so that the pond could be constructed in the elder's memory. Alas, Bob Jr. was for years unhappy with the pond, frustrated that it never held much water. There was little that could be done about how the pond functioned, because it had essentially no watershed—most rain flowed away from the pond, rather than toward it. But Bob was a thoughtful and reasonable person. He eventually came to understand that the “pond” was fulfilling an important purpose as a wetland, and a place that attracted wildlife, where schoolchildren could study animal tracks.

Bob passed away in April 2024 at the age of 90. We were grateful to learn that Bob had designated a portion of his estate to Glen Helen, with an eye toward augmenting our endowment.

Judith Calvert O'Connor

Judith was born on June 19, 1947 in West Lafayette, Indiana. She graduated from DePaul University with a Bachelors of Arts degree in English, then earned a Master's degree in English Literature at Indiana University. She was the Assistant Dean of Admissions at Antioch University, and retired from Wittenberg University. One of her significant responsibilities there was developing student internships. She had many interests beyond Glen Helen. Judith was an avid Wittenberg basketball and football fan and was passionate about volunteering at the Springfield Women's Shelter. She loved traveling and spending summers at a cottage on Lake Michigan.

She passed away peacefully on September 2, 2023, and her celebration of life was held at the Glen Helen Vernet Ecological Center. Her planned gift was restricted to the Raptor Center, and will be added to our endowment so that her generosity can support the operations of the Center into perpetuity.

Lucy and Arthur Morgan Society

Arthur and Lucy Morgan were singularly instrumental in the preservation of Glen Helen. Through the Lucy and Arthur Morgan Society, we recognize and honor donors whose leadership, through gifts of $1000 or more, ensures the fiscal health of Glen Helen.
